For "Jessie" from When Jessie Came Across the Sea by Amy Hest, illus. by P.J. Lynch, Candlewick Press, 1997

Jessie Auburn haired, ginger freckled teacher and creator of lovely lace,
A character in Amy Hest's story of immigration, love, and opportunity,
Who loves her grandmother, Lou the cobbler, and the rows of books in the library,
Who learns that America's streets are not paved with gold, but that its buildings touch the sky and hard work brings rewards,
Who feels heartbroken to leave everyone behind,
Who fears failure and loneliness,
Who dreams of bringing grandmother to America and of wearing her mother's silver wedding band
When Jessie Came Across the Sea
A book that draws inspiration from those who have the courage to seek a better life.
